Mario, do you concur?

I've asked for Vigilant's list of attendees and I'll double check it next week.

I think only those who went through the training should have access. It is not user friendly and should it go to court you want them to at least say that went through the class.

My thoughts,

Mark

Now for the next question – do you want all the detectives who have accounts to have access to Facial Recognition also, whether or not they have been through any training? I'm leaving that decision up to the two of you. I'll set up AI based on what you decide.
